WEFACES
WEMusic social media campaign

During the month of April, during the campaign WEFACES you will get to meet the wonderful young people from six countries who contributed to the first phase of project WEMusic and the first activity at an international level, the youth mobility in Bodrum, Türkiye.

We will share their thoughts about music and youth mobility in Bodrum...

And all our faces :)

It made me gain the confidence to talk to other musicians in the language of music and learn many musicians' rights. As one of my friends once said "doctors heal bodies and music heals souls " and that is what I wanna do heal everyone's soul!

It was a perfect opportunity to meet new people, listen to good music, jam together, learn from each other and have fun; it was an extraordinary and valuable trip.

Ruba, Palestine

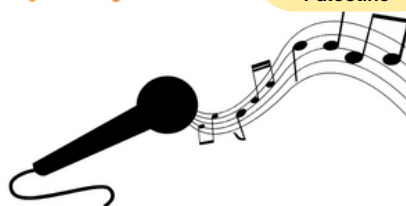

Participating in this project allowed me to learn new things and meet new people who broadened my perspective and made me think differently. By improving my skills, I have ensured that in the future, I will be able to solve any task in front of me. Having a group of people from other cities and different music sectors, I improved my understanding of each other. Of course, I created incredible connections for future work and beautiful friendships. Overall, this project is an excellent opportunity for every young person.

"International learning mobility opens a whole new horizon which is imperceptible until you start the experience itself, and at the end, everyone was eager to learn. It was important for the group of young Italian musicians to see how other young musicians work, how they are treated or living in other countries and their lifestyles."

Elisa, Italy

*This group is one of the things that helps me to hold on to my dreams.
And if there's anything more unifying than a language, it's music.*

Bodrum was a fantastic experience and an excellent opportunity to learn more about the value of music in daily life beyond cultural differences and personal prejudices. Also, it was a perfect opportunity to meet new people and create beautiful bonds.

Music is a tool for creating bonds and breaking down barriers!

Martina, Belgium

The Youth Mobility in Bodrum discovered 50 exciting and active young musicians who were interactive and driven by a desire to learn more, hear more from each other, use good practices, collaborate, and work together in future! Meet our WEMusic gang here!
